

CHICAGO BANKER FUGITIVES FLED FROM COUNTRY

SON OF MISSING PRESIDENT OF MILWAUKEE AVENUE BANK IS UNDER ARREST.

DEPOSIT BOXES ARE LOOTED

Hint That Forgeries May Be Found—
Officers May Have Gone Over to Canada.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—Investigation into the affairs of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank was continued today by Bank Examiner Jones, while the police and private detective agencies pursued the search for the missing officers of the institution, Paul O. Stensland, president, and Henry W. Hering, cashier. If the officers of the law have a conclusive clue to the whereabouts of the men they will not say so, but so far as known there is no definite knowledge of their location.

The case of Theodore Stensland, vice president and son of Paul O. Stensland, arrested Tuesday evening charged with receiving deposits while knowing the bank was insolvent, will be called this afternoon in Justice Severson's court and probably be continued, pending developments. Meanwhile Stensland is at liberty on bail.

Depositors in the defunct bank were somewhat cheered this morning by a statement made by Examiner Jones that the institution had sufficient assets to pay at least 25 per cent on their holdings. Mr. Jones declined to say, without making a definite denial, whether there were, as published this morning, a mass of alleged forged collateral securities in the vaults of the bank, and said to have been the work of President Stensland and in amount to $1,000,000. These alleged forged notes are said to aggregate two hundred.

As the details of President Stensland's life are gradually coming to light, it is said they reveal an astonishing state of affairs. Common report has it that Stensland did not leave the city alone, and that he was accompanied by a divorced woman, well known as a musician and musical critic. It is further stated today that the absent banker had been "chumming" with the woman for some time, and that she had been a guest at one of the principal hotels of the city at the expense of Stensland, who is said to have spent thousands in entertaining her. Stensland has been a widower for six years. The woman in the case, it is said, caused an open rupture in the relation of Theo. Stensland and his father. The banker was at his home between mid-night last Sunday, and 9 a. m. Sunday, and when he left he took with him a small steamer trunk and a suit case.

Thronges of people still congregated around the bank doors today, but they were much more quiet and subdued. They, however, would not leave on the assurance that their presence would avail nothing.

A man who was connected with Stensland by marriage today asserts that Stensland's right name is Paul Olsen; that Stensland knew that Cashier Hering was gambling and that both men spent many evenings in automobiles with women. Stensberg married Stensland's daughter.

Directors of the institution have delayed action until Bank Examiner Jones completes his report, and Receiver Felzer will also postpone taking hold of the bank's affairs until Mr. Jones is through.

It is believed that considerable more than 50 per cent of depositors money can be paid from the assets already unearthed and in the opinion of many bankers of the city, between 70 and 80 per cent of their money can be returned to the depositors.

The principal asset is the sum of $1,050,000 which Examiner Jones says he found in the vaults. Then there are papers on holdings of real estate amounting to more than $1,200,000.

Stensland is said to have lent money on real estate security with little caution, and probably difficultly will be experienced by the receiver in disposing of the mortgages. Other assets which Examiner Jones is listing, will it is thought, bring nearly $3,000,000 in Receiver Felzer's hands.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—Although the two principal officers of the Milwaukee Avenue State bank are missing, one of its officials is under arrest.

The whereabouts of Theodore Stensland, vice president of the bank and son of the missing banker, was a mystery to the authorities until Chief of Police Collins got into communication with him by telephone and secured his promise to meet him in conference. Subsequently Theodore Stensland was arrested on a charge of violating the banking laws of the state. The specific charge on which he was arrested was that of having accepted deposits at the bank when he knew the institution to be insolvent. The arrest was made in the office of Chief of Police Collins, where Stensland went to confer with the head of the police department.

The warrant for the arrest of the vice president was sworn out by J. P. Straub, a liquor dealer, who declared that last Saturday he deposited $350 in the bank and that Theodore Stensland, as one of the officers of the institution, had knowledge then that the bank was insolvent. Jacob J. Kern, a former state's attorney, signed bonds for $5,000 for the release of Theodore Stensland.

Paul O. Stensland, the millionaire president of the bank, has been officially declared a fugitive from justice. With his personal description of a receiver, hourly developments showed a deplorable state of finances extending over a term of years. It was discovered that even the safety deposit boxes of the bank were looted. Promises held out that Stensland would appear in Chicago were not fulfilled, and it is the belief of the police, based on dispatches from several northern cities, that he fled to Canada. Because of his failure to return a warrant was issued for his arrest, charging embezzlement and violation of the Illinois banking laws.

Henry W. Hering, the cashier, sought on a similar warrant, is thought to have reached the Dominion by another route.

Developments give a ray of hope for depositors who believed their savings were swept away in the wreck. David R. Forgan, vice president of the First National bank and one of those to whom the status of the defunct bank's affairs were laid bare, declared that probably 70 cents on the dollar will be paid in the final adjustment. The affairs of the bank are said to be in an almost hopeless tangle, new irregularities being disclosed as the examiners go deeper into the books. Stensland loaned money to himself, it is alleged, by the subterfuge of having employees sign the notes.

Specific instances came to light of the looting of safety deposit boxes. One in particular to which the attention of the public was called was that of Mrs. Lydia Herman, who declared that $150 of her funds was taken.

RIVAL EXCHANGES

At Kansas City Are Engaged in a War of Extermination.

Kansas City, Aug. 8.—After suspending two live stock commission firms the Kansas City Live Stock Exchange made a ruling that every member of the exchange who allies himself with the Co-operative Live Stock Commission company, an organization organized to fight the Kansas City Live Stock Exchange, will be suspended from the exchange immediately. This action was taken, it is believed, because buyers for packing houses as members of the Kansas City Live Stock Exchange, could not afford to forfeit their membership, and the exchange does not want to lose the support of the packers. The firms suspended, Blanchard & Ehrke and Burnside & Jordan, were absorbed last week by the Co-operative Live Stock Commission company.

HYDES IDEA

SERIOUS RIOTING

Fingers, Toes and Ears of Victims
Cut Off For Curios.

FRENZY ABOUT EXHAUSTED

Leaders of the Mob Which Lynched Three Negroes at Salisbury, N. C., Will Be Hunted Down and Prosecuted—Soldiers Guard the Jail With Orders to Shoot to Kill.

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 8.—Public frenzy over the lynching of three negroes accused of the Lysterly murder is about exhausted.

Curious persons went to the scene of the lynching and cut off the toes, fingers and ears of the negroes hung to the limb of the big tree on Henderson's baseball grounds.

Three companies of North Carolina Guard surround the jail at Salisbury, while sentries with loaded guns and orders to shoot to kill patrol the four streets that flank the prison. There have been threats and rumors of threats, but no demonstration, and it is believed the worst is over.

George Hall, the ex-convict from Montgomery county, who is supposed to have led the mob which lynched the three alleged murderers of the Lysterly family, is in jail. The plan to rescue him, rumors of which caused Governor Glynn to hurry troops to Salisbury, did not materialize. The surviving negroes, Henry Lee, George Irvin and two women, are safe in jail at Charlotte, and there is no danger of violence to them. The special term of court which convened to try the victims of mob vengeance, acting under orders from the governor, will not adjourn until every effort to convict the leaders of the mob has been exhausted.

The case is being worked up and many arrests are expected. The governor is determined to push the matter to the bitter end. The case against surviving defendants, against whom true bills were found, were continued until the regular term of the Rowan county court.

The Canadian and Washita rivers are the highest in years.

CAMP ROOSEVELT AT MOUNT GRETN, PA., AND ITS COMMANDER.

Section of Camp Roosevelt in the Valley

Camp Roosevelt, Mount Gretna, Pa., Aug. 8.—Major General Grant, commander of the Department of the East, United States army, is very much gratified with the results accomplished during the first week of the big school of instruction here under his direction, and in this conclusion he is supported by the officers of the various commands which participated in the undertaking. Results far beyond the expectation of General Grant himself were accomplished, notwithstanding the fact that two days of heavy rains interfered to some extent in carrying out the pre-arranged program.

The same instruction and manner which occupied the attention of the District of Columbia and Department of the East, and which were being followed next week General Grant is thoroughly convinced that a change is not desirable. He was aided principally in reaching this conclusion by the unanimous opinion of the army of officers of the District of Columbia and Delaware, who, in answer to his request for suggestions with a

JEALOUS MAN SHOTS GIRL KILLS HIMSELF

RICHMOND LIVERYMAN TRIES TO MURDER SISTER-IN-LAW MISS BRABHAM.

HE SHOT HIMSELF IN HEAD

After Wounding Girl Slightly Oscar James Fired Four Shots at Close Range.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 8.—Oscar C. James, a well known liveryman of London county, committed suicide last night by shooting himself in the temple, after making an attempt to kill his sister-in-law, Miss Blanches Brabham, who has been living at his home. It is said that jealousy was the cause. James attended a camp meeting, and became enraged because of the attentions other men paid to Miss Brabham. James was heard to threaten Miss Brabham and on his return home attempted to shoot her. He fired at close range four shots, one slightly wounding her in the ear. James then turned the pistol on himself and shot himself in the right temple.

The training in the fundamental branches of camp preparation, such as the alignment of tents, sanitation, cooking, baking and the issue of rations, was most thorough, while the drills, marches, and maneuvers, imparted to officers and men a broad idea which has inspired them with confidence, shown in their every movement.

JUMPED BAIL, BROUGHT BACK

And Complains That United States
Played Trick on Him.

PECULIAR QUESTION AT ISSUE

Fugitive Custom Officer Who Objects to Doing Time at Sing Sing Would Have the Government Conform to More Rigid Rules of Honor Than Required of Individual.

New York, Aug. 8.—A peculiar question is involved in a criminal case pending here. Is it wrong for Uncle Sam to resort to expedients to punish a public servant who abused his trust and then jumped bail to escape serving a term in prison?

As a judicial opinion, the honor of the United States is of more importance than the punishment of a million criminals is the declaration made by Judge Hough in the United States circuit court here in habeas corpus proceedings on behalf of Charles C. Browne, formerly employed in the customs service in this city. Browne was extradited in Canada and taken to Sing Sing prison to begin a two years' term for conspiracy to defraud the government.

Browne was convicted of conspiring to defraud the government and sentenced to two years in prison. He jumped a $12,500 bail bond and fled to Canada. Extradition was refused on the conspiracy charge, but he finally was extradited on an amended charge of being a fugitive from justice. His attorneys expected that he would first be brought to New York, but instead he was taken direct to Sing Sing prison.

W. M. K. Olcott, of counsel for Browne, denounced the action of the federal authorities in extraditing Browne for one offense and incarcerating him for another as a trick beneath the dignity of the government of this country and in violation of the treaty with Canada.

In taking the papers in the case and reserving decision, Judge Hough commented on the Rauscher decision in supreme court of the United States, in which the contentions advanced in behalf of Browne were upheld, and it was in this connection that he spoke of the honor of the United States being of more importance than the conviction of criminals. He said his understanding of the Rauscher decision was the supreme court made much of the question of the honor of the United States in such matters. "Were it not for the Rauscher decision, however, I will say now," declared Judge Hough, "that I would send Browne back to Sing Sing." Some significance was attached to the fact that Charles Fox, counsel of Sir Percy Sanderson, the British consul general here, was present during the hearing.

Mamie Scott, Serepta, Miss., killed her father who was abusing Mrs. Scott.

BALLOONIST'S FALL

Parachute Apparatus Failed to Work and Wm. Johnson Was Badly Hurt.

Utica, N. Y., Aug. 8.—William Johnson, a balloonist, made an ascension in connection with a street fair in Little Falls. Coming down with a parachute, the apparatus failed to work and Johnson fell on the railroad, receiving injuries which undoubtedly will cause his death. Johnson went up to a great height, and it is estimated that he was 3,000 feet high when he left the balloon to make what is called a double parachute descent. The first parachute opened well, and Johnson descended about two-thirds of the distance. Then he attempted to open the second parachute and descend the remainder of the distance. He discarded the first parachute and as he grasped the handle of the second one the strings broke causing it to collapse. He struck on railroad tracks, his fall being partly broken by telegraph wires. His spine was fractured at the base of the brain.

RING LEADER'S THROAT CUT

Another's Shoulder Pierced by Bayonet in General Fight—News Was Suppressed.

Philadelphia, Aug. 8.—It has just leaked out today that a mutiny among the marines at the League Island navy yard which was quelled only after a fierce hand-to-hand struggle in which two "battered" men were badly injured, resulted in the arrest of five marines and ten sailors. The former are in double irons on the receiving ship Lancaster and the latter are under arrest in a temporary camp. The mutiny was due to a spree. Their marines sold their uniforms, bought beer and smuggled liquor into camp. They attempted to jump the guard and when halted attacked the guards. The mutineers were aided by friends and were getting the best of the loyal men when an alarm was sounded. A general fight followed during which several shots were fired and bayonet's were employed to quell the rioters. One ring leader's throat was slashed from ear to ear and another's shoulder was pierced.

MR. DEBS TALKS ON SOCIALISM

AUDIENCE AT TAYLOR HALL IS ENTERTAINED FOR MORE THAN TWO HOURS.

Capital is Combining, Labor is Organizing and Time is Ripe For Socialism, Said Speaker.

Eugene V. Debs, the great Socialist leader, delivered an address of over two hours length to a good sized audience at Taylor Hall, Tuesday evening. Mr. Debs is a forceful speaker and presented his views on the Socialist question with unusual clearness.

It would be impossible to undertake a complete review of the address giving due value to the points brought to view by the speaker in the course of the evening. In substance, the lecture dealt with the general idea advanced by the Socialist party—the co-operative commonwealth system, which means, popular ownership and co-operative industry.

In the course of his address, Mr. Debs traced the relationship between labor and capital from its earliest form to the conditions existing today, stating that competition, which is a necessary part of business success, had been forced to become a strife instead of a stimulus to trade, that this condition was due to the fact that the capitalist controlled the tools, and, controlling the tools which produce labor, control the laborers, and that as long as capital retains control of the producing tools the laboring man will be the slave of the capitalist. By way of illustration the speaker referred to Andrew Carnegie. He owned the steel producing tool, the great modern steel plant. He could not operate it. He must have laborers to do it for him, and, on the other hand, the workers had to sell their labor power to Mr. Carnegie, while he has absolute control of the tools with which they work and can shut them out when he desires, or, needing the meager wage, they work when he wants them to.

"After producing an article," the speaker said, "the laborer comes to buy it for his own use, and, after passing through the hands of the jobber, wholesaler, and retailer, he pays for it its original cost, paying himself the rate handed out by the manufacturer to him, as wages, besides paying his share of all these profits of the jobbers, wholesalers, and retailers."

Mr. Debs brought out the importance of the power of the working man, which, he stated, is being realized more and more and the laborers are uniting and moving toward the light. The dependency of the rich man upon the working class was shown, and at this time the statement that all men stand equal in the eyes of the law was contradicted by the speaker who used as his example the very fitting illustration from real life—the case of a man whose family is on the point of starvation. The man goes to the railroad tracks and takes some scrap iron, possibly enough to furnish bread for his starving children. He is caught and promptly sent to the penitentiary, while the capitalist who is crafty enough to steal a whole railroad bodily, is lauded for his "shrewdness" and business ability" and sent to the United States Senate. This comparison brought forth much amusement and applause.

In referring to what is commonly called the labor market, the speaker stated that the reference suggested slavery, which in truth was the condition of the laborer according to the present system. He said that he did not blame the capitalists for they were looking out for themselves and using the sense that they had toward bettering themselves, just as the working men of the country should do instead of being satisfied with work on the animal plane. The fact that 5,000,000 women and 2,000,000 children were being fed to industry, in the capacity of wage slaves, was spoken of. Possibly the most cutting of all, was the speaker's reference to the institution of the twentieth century known as "exclusive society," in which he pictured the "high life" as it actually exists, pointing out the moral degeneracy being brought about, he said, by the system now in use. In referring to certain society known as "exclusive," Mr. Debs said: "Society women, in their 'full dress,' are giving their time constantly to social functions which, if carried on by the poor of Newark would cause their immediate arrest for immorality."

Toward the close of his address Mr. Debs stated that the belief that the period of panics had passed, was without foundation, for other panics were on the way and would arrive on schedule time as a result of the bursting periods of activity, so long as the present system, between capital and labor, is in existence.

In closing his talk, he said that Socialism was inevitable because, capital is combining and centering, and, as capital combines, labor organizes, and when capital is combined and labor organized, the time is ripe for Socialism to step into power.

The address was most able, as Mr. Debs is an orator of unusual ability, whose lectures demand appreciation.

ODD KIND OF MACARONI.

Straws For Mixed Drinks Served at Dinner by New Cook.

A young housewife on the upper west side of New York, who has been married long enough, however, to know that the breakfast rabbit should be skinned and not plucked, told her cook the other day to have macaroni for dinner, says the New York Times.

"Where is it?" asked the guardian of the gas stove, who is new on the job. "You'll find it on the second shelf of the cupboard," replied the young wife, disappearing from the kitchen.

Two hours later her lord came in after a hard day's work at managing a large body of unruly toddlers and sat down expectantly to a welcome feast.

"We have macaroni for dinner today," said the wife smilingly.

"Good?" he replied. "Macaroni is my long suit. Watch me."

She did watch him as he enthusiastically dipped the ladle into the inviting mass of noodles and after applying the proper proportion of cheese started it on its way. But there was a painful expression on his face as his teeth met the food, and he stopped to investigate. He called the cook.

"What's this?" he demanded. "Macaroni, sir," she replied. "Where do you buy your macaroni—in a glue factory or a pulp works? Get the box."

She produced the package. It bore the inscription:

Choice Papler Mache Straws For Mixed Drinks.

"I thought so!" spluttered the husband—"straw food! Take 'em back to the straw stack." But he is good natured, and the cook still lives to tell the tale.

BEAUTIES' NEW FAD.

Tennis Play in Bathing Suits the Latest at Atlantic City.

Playing tennis in bathing suits is the latest example at Atlantic City, N. J., of the freedom of the shore, says a special dispatch to the New York Globe. It has been evolved on that beautiful ocean beach down below the Chelsea cottage colony. The girls down that way have a tennis court carefully marked out up high on the beach, where the sand lies damp and well packed, and there they combine the pleasures of the surf with the exercise of the fascinating inland game.

It is conceded that at no other resort does woman develop such extreme and curious fads as she does at Atlantic City, and no one can tell how these fancies originate. Just now the board walk fad is for the ugliest, huge, amber colored knobs obtainable to be worn as bathings; some are as large as tennis balls. These appear in all kinds of head covering, from baby hats to yachting caps. When the girl at the shore does a fad she does it to death.

SEASHELLS IN COLORADO.

Huge Ones, Millions in Number, Are Found in Irrigation Tunnel.

Seashells more than three feet in diameter and weighing in many instances fully 100 pounds are delaying the construction of an irrigating tunnel by the government near Gunnison, Colo., says a Washington correspondent of the Pittsburg Dispatch.

The tunnel is being forced through millions of shells, which, geological and biological sharps declare, were once the homes of mollusks, each of a size large enough to feed a dozen men of present day size. The shells, according to the views of the geologists who have charge of the work, are millions of years old and were deposited there at the time when the ocean covered that part of Colorado, but which receding left only the great salt lake of Utah and the shells as a reminder of the fact that the arid and semiarid lands of the southwest were once the bed of the ocean.

New Definition of War.

The Japanese Admiral Shimamura gave out a fresh definition of war when recently visiting Australia, says the Philadelphia Record, as an effective baseball pitcher.

There has come a startling rumor that the dooms is in a humor. To make trouble for the poor distracted czar.

That it doesn't mean to knuckle down or trundle if the buckle.

That is round it is drawn up a hole too far.

Some one's apt to get a sudden sort of jar.

It's awfully disgusting; it's ungrateful as can be.

But it seems to show a shocking disposition to be free.

After all the condescension and attention the convention.

With the loving Little Father and his suite.

After granting their petition on condition that submission.

To the autocratic will should be complete.

To presume to have opinions when they meet.

That's the horriest ungrateful anybody will expect.

But the wretches show a shocking disposition to be free.

They will soon want reformation, liberation, education.

They're already asking something of that kind.

And with languages lacking polish will abolish and demolish.

All the safeguards for autocracy designed.

They will raise the very dickens, you will find.

You may say I'm pessimistic, but I think that you will see.

What will happen if the dooms should unhappily be free.

ROBBERY OF THE JAMES DAVIS HOME.

Boy is Arrested for Train
Jumping.

Officers Jamison, Howard and Moore made an arrest Tuesday night which may prove important in more ways than one, when they locked a man calling himself John Adams in the city prison on a charge of loitering and resisting an officer.

Adams has been hanging around the west end of town for some time, and a few nights ago Officer Lohman of the Wehrle plant, attempted to arrest him, but Adams made his escape. The officers mentioned above caught him prowling around the neighborhood south of the Wehrle foundry Tuesday night and locked him up. He has been selling old coins around the saloons in West Newark for some time and the officers believe that he was implicated in the burglary of the house of Jas. Davis, the well known implement salesman.

Adams was fined $10 and costs and sent to the county jail. In the meantime the officers will make an investigation to connect him if possible with the robbery of the Davis home.

Helen Myers was locked up by Officer Jacobs, the park policeman, on a charge of disorderly conduct. It was charged that the woman was conducting herself in an unbecoming manner at the park. Her flirtations with several men at the park became so obnoxious to the patrons that her arrest was necessary. She was fined $2 and costs.

FATHER,

For the Love of His Son, Goes To Jail in His Stead at Detroit.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 8.—Not until he had been in jail 24 hours, serving a sentence passed upon him by a judge, was it discovered that Dewitt C. Clark was enrolled upon the records of the institution under the name of his son. An investigation showed that the records were equally at fault in the police station and the court room. By a mistake of the officer who had been given a warrant for the son the father had been arrested. In a "save his son from punishment" Clark had permitted himself to be locked up, had waived examination and, when brought in for trial, had entered a plea of guilty. He had been taken to the jail under sentence and had actually served a day of his term without a word to show the mistake of the officials. While his son had enjoyed his freedom unmolested.

Young Clark it is alleged had violated a city ordinance by illegal parking of his car. The father will be released and a new warrant issued for the son.

And here is this from the Warren Daily Tribune, the political complexion of which may easily be guessed when one reflects that it is published in Trumbull county: "A man who holds a federal, state, county or city position and won't pay his honest debts should be reported promptly by his creditors. No such man should be allowed to hold office." True enough. But who is this Republican paper, gunning after? Is it Major General, United States Senator Republican State Chairman Dick?

The postoffice department is making an effort to make periodicals which are really published solely for advertising purposes and are practically delivered free of cost to their alleged subscribers pay a proper rate of postage. The move is a good one and should be made effective. The country is losing millions of dollars yearly because of the low rate at which the postoffice is carrying alleged periodicals which have no real merit in a literary way and are simply used as advertising mediums. The large deficit in the postoffice accounts each year is caused by this practice, and the abuse of the franking privilege by Congressmen and other federal officials.

The Columbus Dispatch, one of the papers at the state capital whose alleged unfavorable attitude toward "our party" led the junior United States senator to express his preference for Cedar Point as the place for holding the state convention because there are no newspapers there, prints this in its column of editorial paragraphs: "Michigan Republicans call for nomination of United States senators by popular vote. All over the country the demand is for an opportunity for the people to voice their preference directly without the interpolation of political machines. When Ohio gets to that point in actual practice, there will be a change for the better in its representation in the upper house of Congress." The Columbus newspapers are outspoken these days. They care little for the feelings of some gentlemen prominent in the party's organization.

Roosevelt Turned Dick Away Hungry.

(Youngstown Vindicator.)

In reporting the political pilgrimage of Senator Dick to Sagamore Hill to secure some word from President Roosevelt to be brought back to the Ohio Republicans the New York Sun gave much attention to details concerning the event which has been variously reported in the papers. The Sun said that so intently engaged were the participants that the conference was prolonged till the luncheon hour, and then proceeds to tell much that did not pertain to Sagamore Hill luncheon, concluding the report with the simplicity characteristic of the Sun with these words, "Senator Dick arrived at the station hungry but happy." While some of the newspaper accounts of the pilgrimage stated at the time that it was a flat failure, other reports, those based upon what Senator Dick himself gave out, stated that it was very satisfactory and that the president and the senator were satisfied. Still after all it is made to appear that Senator Dick was turned away hungry from the President's summer home. And perhaps after all he was turned away to return to Ohio in a normal condition of hunger, for so far as office, patronage and political power are concerned Dick is yet to go on record as having had a sufficiency.

ANTI-TRUST WAR VETERAN

Character Sketch of Lewis Emery, Jr., the Tireless Foe of the Standard Oil Company

Fearless Fighter Whose Courage Is Not Lessened Even by a Crushing Blow—Physically and Intellectually In His Prime, He Stands Both For Manhood and Principle and Is the Real Goods

FOR more than thirty-five years Lewis Emery has fought the Standard Oil company. He is practically the only conspicuous "independent" who has waded out in that sort of a battle. Many times during the long struggle he has been defeated and forced to the wall, but there are some men who are stimulated more by the bitter cup of defeat than others are by wine, and Emery belongs to this class. He is a natural fighter and is never more pugnacious than after receiving a crushing blow. In the panic of 1873 he failed and went $100,000 to the bad, but paid it all back, regained his footing and won his way again to fortune.

Now, at the age of sixty-seven, this veteran in the anti-trust war is the reform candidate for governor of Pennsylvania. If he should win, as his followers enthusiastically assert that he will, the honor, they say, would be a fitting reward for a long service in behalf of the people.

Independent in Business and Politics.
"I believe in honesty in office and government by law—one law for all," is Emery's motto. He has ever stood chose to oppose what he deemed an unjust combination and to retain his own self respect and the well wishes of mankind.

Father of Interstate Commerce Act.
As the head of the Oil Producers' association Mr. Emery was practically the father of the interstate commerce act. He began the fight for this measure in 1872, when he was the moving spirit of a committee which drafted an anti-discrimination bill and had it introduced in congress. It was defeated, but was reintroduced at successive sessions until finally enacted into law. Thus thirty-four years ago Lewis Emery began the struggle against railroad rebates, which has now become the foremost issue before the American people.

Another fight made by Emery was for an independent pipe line to the seaboard. He started to build such a line, but had to carry it under a bridge owned by the Erie railroad. All the railroads were in league with the Standard, and the Erie enjoined him from crossing under its right of way, although to do so would in nowise have interfered with its business. The case was carried into the courts, and Emery was defeated. He then tried ate. Following that session, in 1893, Emery stumped the state for an independent Republican candidate for governor. During the session of 1893 he made his famous fight for the free pipe line bill and in winning it made it possible for independent oil producers to have their own pipe lines despite the railroad-Standard Oil opposition. In this same session he also led the fight for the Humes anti-discrimination bill.

Probably the most famous legislative battle conducted by Senator Emery, however, was for what was known as the Billingsley bill, which was designed to regulate the Standard Oil company. In the beginning Senator Delamater, Republican boss of Philadelphia, were for the measure out of a spirit of revenge. It passed second and third reading, when the Standard Oil company got into the game. McManes and Delamater owned a gas plant in the western part of the state and the Standard bought this for $600,000. As a result McManes and Delamater ceased their support of the Billingsley bill, and the measure died. So bitter was Emery over this action that he openly charged perjury and dishonesty on the floor of the senate and said that he understood Delamater was to be a candidate for governor. Then he dramatically added, "I will be against him and do my utmost to bring about his defeat."

Delamater was a candidate for governor. Emery stumped the state against him, and he was overwhelmingly defeated by Robert E. Pattison.

Old War Horse of Bradford, Pa.
After the session of 1885 Mr. Emery withdrew from the state senate and in a way from politics, yet has remained the antimongopoly leader of the state. Though he has been out of public office for over twenty years, the people have not forgotten him, and when the Lincoln Republicans arose to overthrow boss rule it was to the old war horse of Bradford that they looked for leadership. So popular was he with the Democrats that they overthrew the state leadership of Colonel James M. Guffey in order that they might endorse the candidacy of Emery for governor.

Although nearly threescore and ten, this man is at the height of his powers. He approaches the fight of his life fully equipped and equal to the occasion. He is in his prime physically and intellectually. Age has broadened and deepened him, but has not impaired his vigor or curbed his spirit. Science and correct living are now setting the old age line back anyway, and in a few years we may expect to see men active and forceful until well in the eighties. Oslerism never had less of an excuse for existence than today.

It has been said that the pioneer may never expect the reward for his effort; that the agitator can never become the leader; that the John Baptist must look for nothing more than to be beheaded and forgotten. While rebelling against the injustice of this dictum men generally have admitted it to be true. Here is one that combats it. There is no reason why the man who stands in the vanguard for truth should not be rewarded when his cause is triumphant. Nobody but selfish camp followers ever denied him such reward. Who is better entitled to be the leader of a movement than the man who has created that movement? Of late the word-reform is somewhat in disrepute, not because of real reformers, but of spurious ones. Yet it is a good word and the fact that there are counterfeit men who use it does not detract from its worth. A genuine twenty dollar gold piece is none the less desirable because imitation ones are in circulation. We only need to learn discrimination, so that we can detect the false from the true. A self-seeker always lands himself and his followers in the ditch, but the work of a man who forgets self and seeks to serve truth grows in reputation with the years. Lewis Emery is the real goods. If he had been a self-seeker there are a hundred places in his career that would have been different, points at which he could have secured wealth and position by turning from his principles.

It has been said that words are cheap, but they are so only in the mouth of a cheap man. Words always reflect the character of the one speaking. One who can read between the lines has no difficulty in determining the caliber and sincerity of the one penning the lines. It is a matter of discrimination again. By any test whatsoever the following utterance of Lewis Emery rings true:

"If I take the governor's chair, as sure as there is a God who takes account of the actions of men, so help me God, the statute laws of this commonwealth shall be enforced and the eighth commandment shall be obeyed in every department of the public service."

Here is another of the same sort: "I trust that I am neither a demagogue nor an anarchist. I have never truckled to power in order to curry favor nor pondered to the vicious in order to gain votes, but for more than a quarter of a century I have labored to establish a reign of law. I have fought for popular rights, honest government and equality of opportunity under the law. That is all I now seek."

Here is one more that packs it all into a few words: "The square deal means equal and exact justice for all."

That is it; no discrimination, no favoritism, no partiality; equal treatment, fair play, no stacking of the cards, play the game on the level. That is all the people demand, and that Lewis Emery is determined they shall have. A man with such ideals voiced in such direct English and backed by a life of such deeds can be trusted.

J. A. EDGESTON.

LAST MOVE

Of Thaw's Chief Counsel Shows Deviation From Usual Defense Lines and Excites Speculation.

New York, Aug. 8.—The new court move on the part of Clifford W. Harbridge, chief counsel for Harry Kendall Thaw, failed to materialize, and it is intimated that the publicity given to the intentions of counsel had necessitated its postponement. There is still no hint as to what the next court procedure will be.

The last move of Harbridge was unusual. He secured a temporary writ restraining the District attorney from taking further evidence against the prisoner, and that writ still holds as Judge McLean has not rendered a decision. In view of the fact that Harbridge is not following exactly the usual murder defense lines, there is no little speculation as to the nature of his forthcoming appeal to the courts.

J. J. Gaine, a Broadway salesman, whose wife is an old friend of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, and who has been wanted by the district attorney to tell about an alleged threat that Harry Thaw is said to have made against the life of Stanford White, has been located. He said he had been away on a vacation.

Gaine refused to discuss the Thaw case, and declared that he knew nothing that would help either side. He said that his wife might know something, and she was out of the city. He would not say where she was.

Mrs. Harry K. Thaw visited her husband at the Tombs, but the extreme heat kept the prisoner's mother at the Carnegie country place, at Roslyn, R. I. Young Mrs. Thaw carried a big basket of choice fruit. On leaving she said that her husband was suffering severely from the heat, but that he was not complaining. She spent some time at the office of Clifford W. Harbridge, discussing certain phases of the case.

The executive committees of the New York Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, the Society of Beaux Arts Architects and the Architectural League of New York, have passed a resolution expressing their sense of the great loss which the profession and the art of architecture have sustained in the death of Stanford White who was shot by Harry Thaw.

Word was received here Wednesday morning that the barn belonging to Mr. Edward Hickey at Clay Lick, which is one of the largest and most complete in the county, burned to the ground Tuesday night about midnight, together with all its contents, consisting of hay, machinery, etc. Two large sheds, each 150 feet in length, in which was stored a large quantity of lumber of all kinds, also burned. Mr. Hickey usually kept from fourteen to eighteen fine horses in the barn, but fortunately he turned them all into the field Tuesday night. It is estimated that the loss will reach about $5,000, there being $400 insurance on the barn and $300 on the hay and machinery. The fire is supposed to be of incendiary origin.

Mr. Vernon, Aug. 8.—Messrs. Fish and Lybarger received a letter Tuesday from John R. Doells, who with his wife and daughter left for a trip east. The family was on the train that was wrecked Sunday on the C. A. & C. near Akron. Mr. Doells remarks that the train was completely cut in tow and one of the cars turned over. Mr. Doells was thrown out of a window but aside from being badly bruised and receiving a sprained ankle he was unhurt. The rest of the family were uninjured.

The Rev. Alfred E. Isaacs, pastor of the Tenth Avenue Baptist church in Columbus, was badly injured at Hiawatha Park. Mr. Isaacs was playing ball and after striking at two balls the third one hit him in the face and fractured his jaw. The reverend gentleman will not be able to preach for a month at least.

BOYS ATTACKED BY HIGHWAYMEN

Johnstown, O., Aug. 8.—A daring hold-up occurred two miles north of here Monday night. As Lannie Coons, aged 19, was returning home with two neighbor boys, and while passing a lonely wood, three men stepped out from among the trees and ordered the youths to hold up their hands. Coons refused to comply and started after the highwaymen, whereupon one of them stabbed him with a knife, cutting a bad gash in his neck. The trio then fled, having secured no booty.

RECORD YIELD OF OATS REPORTED

Coshocton, Aug. 8.—J. L. Boyd, the well known Keene farmer, reports what is probably the heaviest yield of oats in the county. Out of 100 shocks ten sheaths to the shock, he got 176 bushels of oats. Out of one wagon load of 20 shocks the yield was 44 bushels. As farmers generally consider that eight sheaves yield one bushel, it is readily seen how heavy this crop averages.

JOHN E. MURPHY,

Head of the United States Secret Service Bureau at St. Louis, is Dying at Columbus.

Columbus, O., Aug. 8.—John E. Murphy, former superintendent of police, and at present in charge of the United States Secret Service Bureau at St. Louis, is slowly dying at the residence of Dr. H. Y. Masfield of cancer of the kidneys. He was brought to this city from St. Louis on Monday. Relatives at his bedside feel that he can live only a few hours.

Colonel Murphy was considered in his active days one of the shrewdest thief takers in the country. He rose to that profession from a mill hand. He was superintendent of police in this city for eight years and upon being legislated out of office took service with the government.

He worked on the Lancaster, Pa., tobacco swindle, which turned up a gang of counterfeiters that proved to be the smoothest in the country. His daughters have been summoned to the bedside from St. Louis, and his son, Joseph E., of the personal bodyguard of President Roosevelt, is now with him.

In the Books of the Franklin County Clerk is Rumored—Expert Accountants at Work.

Columbus, Aug. 8.—Expert accountants have been placed upon the books of the Clerk of Franklin county by Clerk Howard C. Park, who took the oath of office a few days ago. The former clerk was John W. McCafferty and when he turned over the office to his successor he gave a check for $5,000 to cover the public funds.

It is said that there are discrepancies amounting to from $2,000 to $5,000, but Mr. McCafferty declares that if there are any irregularities he will be the loser and not the public.

The costs books have not been posted for several weeks. Mr. McCafferty says that when this is done there will be evidence to put at rest all inquiry.

Mr. McCafferty said last night that his personal accounts would be examined as soon as the accounts of the office in general were completed, and that until then would he make any positive statement.

At Buckeye Lake Park Tuesday afternoon the Molders played an exhibition game with the Shawnee team a nine composed of husky youths from the mines in that neighborhood. The game was not so bad as it might have been and Newark won by a score of 7 to 3.

Contrary to the general belief, the Miners put up a good game. There is no doubt but that they could show Sharon a few points about the national game. The boys were out for a good time, it being a sort of picnic, and the boys seemed to have no trouble mixing baseball and fun, with the result that good playing is produced.

Pitcher Riley, Newark's newest recruit, was tried out and worked well. The hard hitting miners were held to four hits. Off these four bingles and with the assistance of four fozzies in the field, three runs were scored. The diamond at the lake, which by the way is about the worst in Licking county, was hardly conducive to good ball playing. The outfield was so rough that it was like sailing the ocean in a storm to run after a ball. Pitcher Beech, who posed as the finger of all fingers at Shawnee, worked against the Molders, and although his whip was good he was touched up for eleven hits. Four of these went to Schweitzer's credit out of five times at bat.

A detailed account of the run making in this game would hardly interest the local bugs so the story is told in the following figures:

Schweitzer is Injured.
Outfielder Al Schweitzer who has been setting the pace for all the rest of the hitters on the local team, was hurt at Buckeye Lake Park during the exhibition game between Newark and Shawnee Tuesday afternoon. His ankle, which has been giving him some trouble since reporting here, was slightly turned again while chasing a fly ball and though it is hoped that the injury will not cause any serious inconvenience, it is feared that he will have to lay off a few days.

ZANESVILLE FOR NEXT FOUR DAYS

Three Games Here and One at Zanesville—We're Ahead on Series Thus Far.

The rain man has made a big effort to put the crimpers on the ball game this afternoon between the Molders and the Molders. Thus far this season, Newark has had the bulge on the Moguls in games won and lost. Out of the seven games played between these old rivals Newark has won four and nearly had five out of eight in a game at Zanesville when the rain tank up-tipped.

This is most unusual in the Newark baseball history. Heretofore, Zanesville has had the baseball argument all her own way when Newark was concerned, but this year things are different. The only way to keep the upper hand of the Moguls is to keep pegging and not play horse with Ferd Drumm's Clay Baters.

The local bugs will forgive Newark for finishing in the lead of the second division if they can take the biggest end of the season's games from Zanesville. Might as well make a good start today and whip them badly. Turn the same trick on their own grounds tomorrow and take two here Friday and Saturday. That's the proper caper.

LAVELLE FIRED

Arbitrator Who Has Been With the League Since Its Organization Let Out by Morton.

Akron, Aug. 8.—President Morton Tuesday ordered Umpire Marty Lavelle to report at Akron. Lavelle telegraphed Morton Tuesday morning that he would be unable to work in New Castle Tuesday afternoon.

Lavelle will likely be suspended for some time, probably until Christmas. He has been having a lot of off days of late. Prosperity seems to have gotten the upper hand of Marty. Before the umpires' salaries were boosted from $100 to $125 Lavelle worked every day. He has been working about every third day since. President Morton has his eye on another arbitrator.

Will Thomas Again in Lead.
By getting seven hits off Dr. Bailey and Buckholtz in Saturday's double header, Fielder Will Thomas swelled his per centage to .331 and is again leading the Champions with the stick.

Whitney is second with .327 and Fohl third with .291. Blount is hitting .247 and Moloney .214. The Champs team average is .265. They lead the league. Akron with .256 is second.

GAME FORFEITED.

New York and Chicago Have Peculiar Wrangle Over Umpire.

New York, Aug. 8.—The New York-Chicago National league game scheduled for Tuesday was not played, owing to refusal by the police to admit Umpire Johnstone on the ground for fear a riot might ensue if he officiated. Both Chicago and New York claim the game for forfeit, Chicago on the ground that the umpire was barred and New York because Chicago refused to play. The game will go to protest. President Pulliam says he will sustain the action of Johnstone, who declared the game forfeited to Chicago.

Scrap With Umpire.
Boston, Aug. 8.—Following the National league ball game between Boston and Pittsburgh there was a personal encounter between Fred Tenney, manager of the Boston team, and Umpire Klem. Tenney accused Klem of neglecting to deliver over to him the balls used in the game, which are always considered the property of the local club. He attempted forcibly to search the umpire's pockets. An exchange of blows followed and Klem, it is alleged, threw one of the balls at Tenney, hitting him in the face. Both men bear marks of the encounter, which will be reported to President Pulliam.

NO GAME TODAY

A telephone message from White said this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock that the ball playing on the diamond there is absolutely impossible. A heavy rain started shortly before 2 o'clock and continued for a half hour or more. The wet condition of the ground before the rain was such that but little rain was necessary to make it too soft for ball playing. In all probability the management of the two teams will make arrangements to play a double header on one of the days later in the series. Newark has a postponed game at Zanesville and there is still some doubt whether this will be played off on Thursday afternoon.

Round Trip $6

Tickets good returning until August 12, inclusive. May be extended until Aug. 20. See ticket agent for particulars.

Thirty years ago I made my first public appearance at the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia. I was a stranger then. People took away specimens of my writing as curiosities. Today everybody knows me and these specimens fill the mail cars.

Every one of my thirty years has been a year of progress—both in quality and sales. The year 1906 is emphasizing my supremacy—my sales for the first quarter breaking all existing records.

Today I am the oldest and still the newest. Not that I was first am I best, but that I am best am I first. I am the product of the second generation of Remington artistry. My New Models represent the experience of the old combined with the progressiveness of the new. In my present form I embody all the qualities which have made me famous—plus improvements so fundamental as to create a new standard of type-writer work.

"Actors, Be Natural"

Says Julia Marlowe—"Don't Surrender to Hysterics. Maintain Even Poise."

By JULIA MARLOWE.

One of America's greatest actresses. "If you were giving advice to a beginner what would you say was the surest way to command success?" I am asked that question frequently. To it I reply: Patience above and beyond everything—patience unending, undying patience, and the close, keen, constant study of nature.

That is the great thing—to be natural. It remains art, of course, but it is the art which conceals art, and your reproduction of the genuine quality becomes so real after constant and thoughtful application that the human nature in those who are watching you, and especially in those who sit away up aloft, responds like a heart throb, and you get your reward.

But, no matter how great your success, the study must still continue, and it means study to a point, particularly in modern plays, where you are able to express thoughts and emotions without the help of the author's written lines—in other words, where you regard the phrases as a mere suggestion, a slight outward expression of the soul underneath. You must work until you are able to command a perfect blend of thought and emotion in every role you undertake. With that will come the perfect mode of expression in voice and gesture, the result being nature or its exact counterpart.

Again, I am often asked if I really feel that I am the character I am impersonating. I say, not at all, and you ask how I explain the real tears shed in some of my roles. Surely this is quite simple. When you weep over an affecting passage in a poem or tale it is with sympathy, not because you think you are the person whose sorrows are set forth and that you are suffering under the given conditions.

Hinging upon that thought, I believe, is the whole secret of what the convincing actor must ever aim at—the creation of sympathy. He will not achieve that by any surrender to hysterics, but by constantly maintaining a sane and even poise, feeling deeply, to be sure, and exercising the utmost tact, tenderness and delicacy in illuminating his lines with action, gesture and expression.

Maintaining that attitude, all that he does is necessarily spontaneous to the outward eye. And by the same token he will avoid that insufferable violence to the feelings which Stevenson declared was the last distinction between melodrama and true tragedy and which, it may be maintained with equal force, is the last distinction between bad art and good.

Not for the sake of mere action should a player move about the stage, and no method is to be less commendable than that which results in the perpetration of fluttering gestures, swift alterations of expression and which degenerates into mere grimace and restless change of position. I find that the best effects I make I suggest, not do.

Experience has taught me that in the plays of Shakespeare we shall not go far wrong if we let the lines have the center of the stage and allow them to betray the poet's meaning. We cannot help him by a multitude of gestures nor by the creation of intricate play. The best we can do, and all we can safely try to do, is to aid him by tenderness or impressiveness of voice and by allowing something of the beauty and power to suffuse our eyes and shine in our countenance.

I would have a beginner to hug to himself the thought that it is better to do the wrong thing strongly than the right thing weakly. Doing so he may err, err gravely, but he at least will err with some conviction and sincerity and will know what a blessed compensation there is in the lines of that oriental poet who said:

In Ed Geers' Stable.

Goldust Maid, Gail Hamilton and Choir Boy are named by Geers as candidates for the M. and M. stake at Cleveland, and he should be able to pick one that will be in the money.

Goldust Maid is a hard going, big mare, but she improved a lot with Geers last summer, may go ahead another season and will be hard to beat if she starts. Choir Boy is a wonder for speed, but last summer he was unpolish, his best race being won on a day when the stable did not think he had a chance.

Lake Queen has not shown anything to warrant starting her in such a lot of horses.

IMMIGRANTS SWELTER TO MAKE HOLIDAY FOR CUSTOMS OFFICERS.

Steerage passengers detained over Sunday on board the Umbria.

New York, Aug. 8.—Of all of those who sweltered in Sunday's torrid heat, perhaps none suffered more than did the 1615 immigrants who, arriving in the steerage of the three liners which made port early in the day, were kept on board in order that the employees of Ellis Island might have a holiday.

The immigrants were brought by the Celtic, of the White Star line, which carried 427 in her 'tween deck quarters; by the Umbria, of the Cunard line, which had 760 on board, and by the Columbia, of the Anchor line, which came in with 548 in her steerage.

It was soon after eight o'clock in the morning when the vessels reached their piers. Their commanders had been notified before sailing of the adoption by this government of the rule that, beginning with the first Sunday in August and extending through the other Sundays of this month and those of September, Ellis Island would be closed in order to give the employees these Sundays off. But there was so much opposition on the part of the steamship companies that there had been cherished a hope on the part of the captains that the regulation may have been abrogated while they were on their way across.

They learned their error when the boarding officers went on board after the ships had cleared from quarantine. Then the word was passed among the steerage passengers that they need be in no hurry packing up their belongings, as they would have to spend the day and night on board.

And throughout the rest of the day the immigrants wandered about their restricted spaces, looked at the shore, so near at hand, and wondered in their alien way why they were not permitted to land. The crowd of waiting relatives, which usually congests about the large office landing of the Ellis Island ferryboat, stayed there well along toward the noon hour, lodged about with alien speech and not able to understand those who knew why the ferryboat was idle and why none of those whom they expected were being landed.

When through means of an interpreter they were finally made to understand, there was a scattering of the crowd and a search for the piers where the ships were moored. There they met another disappointment. As none of the steerage passengers might leave the vessels, likewise none of their friends could go on board to see them.

The privilege would have involved too great a risk, as it might have led to the escape of some of the immigrants which would have involved a large fine for the vessel. As it was, extra guards had to be placed all around each vessel, along the piers and at the gangways.

Steamship agents violently oppose the new rule, and assert that it works an unnecessary embarrassment to the commerce of the port. P. A. S. Franklin, vice president of the International Mercantile Marine, which controls the White Star line, said that if it was necessary for the Ellis Island men to have midsummer Sundays off, the problem could best be solved by taking on more employees. "Moreover," Mr. Franklin added, "Ellis Island is supported by the $2 a head tax which the government levies on immigrants."

CAN THE SMALL FARMER EARN LIVING?

Prof. Bailey of Cornell Agricultural Department, Answers in the Affirmative.

Prof. L. H. Bailey of the Agricultural department of Cornell university, writing in the current number of Collier's on "Can the Small Farmer Live?" says:

"I am asked for my opinion as to whether the small farmer can live. I answer by saying that many small farmers are living in comfort and peace of mind. I have recently visited a truck farmer New York City. He owns thirty acres of land and rents ten more. Eighteen years ago he moved on this land with a capital of $140, renting the place. Now the land has paid for itself, and the net proceeds of the place run from $1,500 to $1,900 a year, counting only cash sales. Aside from this return should be counted free rent and a good part of the daily living. This case may be unusual, but it is not remarkable. At all events, it shows what can be done."

"But I suppose my questioner had in mind to ask whether the farming of the future is to be large-area capitalized farming. It is to be both. Where markets are quick and near-by small-area farming will increase. The proceeds from fifty acres will be sufficient to provide comfortable support. But the limit of profit will soon be reached on these farms, unless they are devoted to very high-class specialties. The man who is ambitious for large affairs, will go farther back to the open country, assemble several farms, employ much labor, organize the business, and apply the kind of generalship that is applied to manufacturing or large merchandizing. More and more, the type of man who now runs a small farm will find it to his advantage to work under the direction of a man of larger executive ability. It will soon be demonstrated that capital can be made to yield a profit when put into well-farmed land. Young men with good technical education and first-class executive ability will take the handling of such lands. Small farmers who have technical skill and knowledge but who lack business ability, will be drawn under the leadership of such men to the betterment of all. At present every farmer is at the same time a specialist and a business man. Division of labor must come in farming as it long ago came in commerce."

GRANVILLE NEWS

Granville, Aug. 8.—At the regular meeting of the Board of Education all members were present with the exception of Mr. Thornton. President Hiram LaPere occupied the chair.

After allowing a number of bills the board decided to open the public schools on the first Monday in September. As this is Labor Day the different schools will meet in the morning and organize after which they will adjourn for the day.

After some discussion regarding the matter it was decided to raise the tuition in the High school to $24 per year. The board also considered a list of applicants to fill positions of teachers in vacancies in the primary department and adjourned to Friday night.

A fine cow belonging to Louis Flory residing on the Newark and Granville road, was killed by being struck by one of the late cars Tuesday night.

A number of the ladies of the village are enjoying a picnic today at the spring in Case's woods, north of town, given in honor of Mrs. Zella Allen, Dixon of Chicago, Ill., who will soon leave Granville for her work in Chicago.

Miss Mary Ferguson left Wednesday for Bowling Green, O., where she will visit her friend, Miss Belle Newton, for a few days.

The phrase "the mother's white-headed boy" is used as the title in Ireland. It appears in many of the Irish fairy stories. The last century Irish mothers who knew good fairy always kept the secret for the "white-headed boy" of the family. Gerald Griffin, in one of his best short stories, years ago used the phrase as one he had borrowed from a cold Celtic tale.

WIDOW IS FORTY GREEN ABOUT 21

But Report Has It in Zanenville That They Have Elope—They Disappeared on August 1.

Zanenville, Aug. 8.—Mrs. Ella Mitchell, aged about 40, divorced from her husband last winter, and the mother of three small children, and Robert Green, a young man of about 21, both employed at the Blankenbuhler restaurant up to last Saturday evening, are missing, and from hints dropped by the alleged runaways, it is supposed that they have eloped and are probably now married.

The other members of the force at the Blankenbuhler restaurant, state that for some time the couple have been so affectionate as to be objects of comment and amusement, and from a number of remarks made by Mrs. Mitchell last Friday and Saturday, it is thought that the move has been contemplated for some time.

The couple disappeared Saturday night and since that time no word has been received from them, nor has any one in the vicinity of their whereabouts. Mrs. Mitchell sent her children to her folks in Michigan a week ago Sunday.

STORM IS OVER

Agrarian Program Will be Promulgated and Placed in Effect as Temporary Law.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 8.—A member of the cabinet says the government regards the storm raised by the dissolution of parliament as passed, and it intends immediately to proceed to carry out the policy of strong-handed reform to which Premier Stolypin committed himself. The cardinal plank of the program is an attempt to appease the discontented peasantry as far as possible. The government's agrarian program will be promulgated and probably placed in effect as a temporary law, the emperor having the right to issue temporary laws during a recess of parliament. In other words, it is the intention of the government to attempt to solve its most difficult problem, irrespective of parliament in the belief that it will meet with enough support to make it impossible for the next parliament to reverse the present policy.

The Emir of Afghanistan recently discovered that three of the chiefs of his court had been grafting, and also had been guilty of oppressing the poor. He ordered them hanged alive and this was done without delay.

PRESIDENT PHILLAM

ISSUES STATEMENT.
New York, Aug. 8.—President Philham of the National Baseball league, today issued the following statement regarding the trouble that developed at the polo grounds yesterday afternoon between the New York and Chicago clubs:

"The New York-Chicago game scheduled for August 7 stands on the league records as forfeited to Chicago by a score of 9 to 0, and said result has been tabulated and counted. I uphold the action of the umpires absolutely, and if I am not substantiated by the National league board of directors, I will not only resign my position as president of the National league, but I will quit professional baseball forever."

"I am a National league man through and through, and will never serve another organization. It has always been my ambition to one day own a National league franchise, but if blackguardism, and jobbery and bulldozing tactics are to be upheld by the oldest professional baseball organization in America, I would not have the best franchise in the National for a gift."

"I won't discuss my umpire assignments for any cause. They are confidential and known only to me and my staff of umpires."

Judge J. T. Fleming of Oklahoma is unique. He served in the Confederate army, voted for the first time in his life for Grant, and the last time for Harrison. He believes that every Union soldier should get a pension of $50 a month inasmuch as he helped save the greatest union of states on earth.

MULLANEY ASKS TO BE CHAPLAIN

FORMER LICKING COUNTY MAN CALLED UPON GOVERNOR ON TUESDAY.

He Took Part in Herick Campaign and Opposed the Anti-Saloon Officials.

Rev. James J. Mullane of Jackson, and a former resident of this county, is a candidate for chaplain of the penitentiary. He was in Columbus Tuesday and called on Governor Harris. It is said no appointment will be made by Warden Gould until after the fall election and that Chaplain Starr will remain at least until then.

Mr. Mullane was prominent in the last gubernatorial campaign in which he took the stump for Herick and attacked the officials of the Anti-Saloon league.

Chaplain Starr has served four terms, having been originally appointed by Governor Nash on the recommendation of George B. Cox.

IOWA DEMOCRATS MAKE A TICKET

Platform Favors Tariff for Revenue and Election of United States Senators by People.

Waterloo, Ia., Aug. 8.—The Democratic state convention nominated a full state ticket, headed by Claude R. Porter of Appanoose county for governor. The platform favors a tariff for revenue only, the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people, and demands the enactment of such legislation as will effectually destroy all trusts. The platform expresses sympathy with the purposes of national labor organizations as set forth in recent addresses by Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and others, calling on labor to assert its political rights at the ballot box. A resolution was adopted pledging to William Jennings Bryan the support of Iowa Democrats for president in 1908.

Change of Candidates.

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 8.—The state executive committee of the Prohibition party filled three vacancies on the state ticket, including the following: For governor, Homer L. Castle of Pittsburg; for lieutenant governor, H. D. Patten of Lancaster. The governorship vacancy was due to the declination of the state treasurer, W. H. Berry (Dem.), nominated by the state convention in May. At that convention Castle was nominated for lieutenant governor.

AMERICANS INVITED

Washington, Aug. 8.—Baron Rosen, the Russian ambassador, today sends an invitation from his summer headquarters at Magnolia, Mass., inviting Americans to take part in a St. Petersburg exhibition. He says: "A permanent committee for the advancement of technical instruction of women at St. Petersburg, with a view to increasing the pecuniary resources of the school, is organizing under high patronage of her imperial highness, Princess Eugenia Maximilianovna of Oldenburg, an international exposition of leather, pelts, feathers, down and their products to be held at St. Petersburg, in November for four months. I hope persons that may desire to take part in the exposition will be induced to send their products."

OHIO BREVITIES

Snyder Once Wealthy Dies Poor—Gold Found Near Danville—Canton Jail Delivery.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 8.—Thomas C. Snyder, former state senator and post commander of the Grand Army, a life-time Mason, Odd Fellow and Elk, died penniless and alone in the City hospital. He was at one time worth $1,000,000, and was the father of the steel industry in Canton. He was a power in Ohio politics and one of the earliest friends of William McKinley. Unfortunate investments in mining stocks ruined him, his wife secured a divorce, and he was finally stricken with paralysis. He was admitted to the City hospital June 22, without a cent in his pockets.

Gold Found Near Danville.

Danville, O., Aug. 8.—Some little excitement exists among the residents of Danville and vicinity over the discovery of gold on the farm of William Temple. While watering his horses at a spring Temple picked up a small piece of rock which glistened in the water. He brought it to town, and a local chemist announced that it is rich in gold, containing about $12 worth. To make doubly sure he sent it to Washington to be assayed. Two years ago gold was found several miles farther north, but never developed.

Marylanders in Ohio

Baltimore, Aug. 8.—Governor Edwin Warfield, accompanied by Secretary of State Oswald Tilghman, Adjutant General Clinton L. Riggs and Colonel Richard S. Hill of his staff, left for Springfield, O., to attend a reunion of former Marylanders living in Ohio which is to take place at Springfield.

Jail Delivery at Canton.

Canton, O., Aug. 8.—A jail delivery occurred at the county jail here in which seven prisoners made their escape by sawing through a heavy iron door. It was discovered when Sheriff Wilson visited that part of the jail at 9 p. m., and it is believed the men had a good start when the discovery was made.

Zanesville, O., Aug. 8.—Frank Stremmel, a bartender, was arrested on the charge of murdering Charles Harding, who died as the result of a fight. Harding dropped a glass of beer, breaking the glass, and a fight followed in which he was badly used, his skull being fractured at the base.

Hay Fever Club.

BIG PLANT IS NOW ON MARKET

Evesville May Lose Glass Factory—Owner of Plant is Said to be Dissatisfied.

Evesville, O., Aug. 8.—The employees of the Evesville glass plant and the citizens of that bustling little city were greatly surprised when notices were posted at the works stating that the plant had been shut down for an indefinite period.

This comes as a heavy blow to Evesville, as it throws out of employment about 300 men, women and children and cut off a payroll of $5,000 every two weeks. It was a surprise to all as it had been understood that the company had been doing a good business. Secretary Kelso of the company says the plant will not be operated under the present management and furthermore that the plant is on the market.

The plant was erected by Charles Campbell and John C. Beckett of Cambridge about six years ago and was purchased by Mr. Schott a bankruptcy sale Nov. 30, 1904, for $37,500.

CHILD'S JAW IS BROKEN BY KICK

McConnellsville, Ohio, Aug. 8.—Fay Smith, aged about 7, little daughter of Mrs. Phoebe Smith of near Rowland, was kicked by a horse, receiving serious injuries. Her jaw bone was broken and she lay unconscious all night.

At the meeting of the Malta school board the resignation of John R. Conrad as superintendent of the Malta schools was accepted and Principal George M. Strong was elected superintendent.

The Chinese, alarmed at the manner in which the Indian and Ceylon teas have driven theirs out of the market, have investigated the matter and come to the conclusion that all that is needed to bring theirs to the foreground again is systematic advertising.

The committee in charge has arranged a very interesting program. Secretary of State L. C. Laylin of Columbus and Col. Wood of Newark, and other prominent speakers will deliver addresses. A flag drill by 20 children and many other interesting features appear on the program.

GLOOM OR GINGER?

Both Are Found Lurking in Your Breakfast, Dinner and Supper.

Not many people realize that the easiest way to affect the brain is through the stomach. The most common illustration of this is the result of drinking whiskey or any intoxicating drink. The same is true as to any article of food.

And you have probably at times eaten something that lay like a lump of lead on your stomach. You can't forget how it makes you feel—groggery, uncomfortable and peevish. That's because everything that affects the stomach affects the brain! If your stomach feels good, you will.

But not everything will have a effect on the brain. Pie won't. Neither will grease or fat. That's because there is no nourishment in them, they simply create heat but no strength. They make the stomach work overtime, make you dreary and your brain foggy.

Nature has made the cereals to supply the brain and muscles of the world. The most intensely nourishing cereals are wheat and barley. By eating these you get the greatest amount of strength and blood-fibre it is possible to get from any other food in the world.

That's what Hardyfood is made of,—wheat and malted barley. Every particle of indigestible material found in them is thrown out, and there is left nothing but the very life of the grain—the purest wheat and barley.

You can eat Hardyfood for breakfast, dinner or supper, or noonday luncheon, with cream and it will taste delicious.

Often you sit at table and don't know what you want. Just eat Hardyfood. It will satisfy that peculiar craving in your stomach, make you feel as though you had had a fulsome, delicious meal, and without any of the bad after effects. It will make your stomach feel fine. It will make your brain feel clear, and you will smile and be good natured. That's the object. Smiles flirt with success.

Hardyfood builds brain, bone, brawn and nerve, because it contains the most nourishing foods in the world.

You can't get muscle from a tenderloin steak; you can't remember things any better by eating ham. Those things make fat,—all fat and no brain.

Hardyfood gives the maximum of nerve and brain force, and demands the minimum of digestion. You hardly need a stomach to digest it.

It will make you feel good all over. It is the life of the whole family.

Buy Hardyfood of any grocer for 10c a package.

WANTS TO KNOW CEMETERY FIGURES

(Communicated.)

The objection made by the B. P. S. to the communication in Saturday's Advocate in regard to the self-support of Cedar Hill cemetery is somewhat misleading; at any rate it is not self-explanatory in that it only gives the decrease in receipts and not the entire receipts and expenditures for the two periods mentioned. This is what the tax-payers of Newark and patrons of the cemetery want to know and ought to know. This is one of the branches of the city's business that is conducted so quietly that even some of the leading citizens of the city don't know who has control of it.

While I am neither a Rockefeller nor a Morgan, yet I make two semi-annual visits to the court house each year and there deposit a portion of my daily earnings in support of existing high salaries and protection and improvements that are to be; therefore it should be the privilege of all such (and there are many) to know, yea, demand if necessary, what is being done by the city officials, our servants.

Many words of most august sound prove to be of quite commonplace meaning when traced to their origin. "Finance" is really "financing" and was formerly used in that very simple sense in the English language. Then it came to signify anything with a relation, and acquired the special sense of loaning.
